

Table of Contents

Joanna Sondel-Cedarmas/Grzegorz Pożarlik/Elżbieta M. Mach Introduction	7
--	---

Part One. From Systemic change to European integration

Joanna Sondel-Cedarmas/Witold Stankowski Post-totalitarian societies in Western Europe: A comparative case study analysis of Italy and Germany	19
---	----

Tadeusz Kopyś Models of systemic-economic transformation in Central and Eastern Europe	41
---	----

Elżbieta M. Mach/Zdzisław Mach European socio-political and cultural changes after 2004 in the context of the shaping of active citizenship	55
--	----

Part Two. Models of political transformation, reconstruction of the rule of law and politics of memory

Witold Kulesza Denazification in the BRD/DDR: An Outline of the Legal Aspects	73
---	----

Joanna Sondel-Cedarmas 'A difficult inheritance:' On the defascistization of public space in Italy in 1946–2019	95
--	----

Tomasz Scheffler The phantom revolution of 1989 in Poland	123
---	-----

Ewa Kozerska The legacy of the Polish People's Republic in the doctrine and constitutional law in the first years of Poland's transformation	143
---	-----

Krzysztof Koźbiał

The Czech memory of the most important figures and events of the communist period in Czechoslovakia (1945–1989) 161

Tadeusz Kopyś

Memory of a difficult past in Hungary:
The Holocaust and the Treaty of Trianon 177

Part Three. Rebuilding social ties and shaping active European citizenship in post-totalitarian societies

Witold Stankowski

From a divided society to a united and European one: The reunification of Germany, the transformation in East Germany and Germany in Europe 199

Andrea Natalini, Antonella Nuzzaci, Paola Rizzi

Citizenship skills: A historical perspective in the European and Italian context 219

Paweł Kubicki

The sociological vacuum in Poland: Reflections 30 years after the transformation 241

Grzegorz Pożarlik

Civil society in post-1989 Poland as a contentious society:
Systemic transformation and the Europeanisation of civil society 263

Jana Pecníková/Daniela Mališová

The shaping of active European citizenship in the Slovak society 279

Tadeusz Kopyś

The social determinants of political change in Hungary and its perception of the European Union (1989–2018) 293

Elżbieta M. Mach

Preparing students for life in a common Europe:
Reflections from Poland 17 years after the expansion of the EU 313